Cascina Ca' Rossa Roero Riserva "Mompissano"

Appellation: Roero DOCG

Type: Red, dry

Varietal: 100% Nebbiolo

Certified Organic

Roero Riserva "Mompissano" was born in 1999 after this beautiful vineyard was acquired by the estate on Mompissano Hill. The hill sits above Roero's principle town, Canale and the Cascina Ca' Rossa farmhouse and winery. The vineyard is one of the highest on the hill, directly under the Torre in Terra ("Tower of Earth," a towering bluff that overlooks Canale and serves as a local landmark). It was decided to honor this land, this terroir, by putting the name of the hill on the label.

Tasting Notes

Color: Deep ruby red with garnet edges.

Bouquet: Notes of ripe fruit and spice with dry cherry, raspberry, ripe peach, and hints of violet, rose, pepper, and cinnamon.

Taste: Round, elegant, strong, and full-bodied. A Nebbiolo very characteristic of the Roero region. The flavors open up progressively and the wine develops beautifully in the glass. The finish is long, persistent and with soft and well-balanced tannins overlaying a beautiful, food-friendly acidity.

Alcohol: 14-14.5%.

Serving Temperature: 16-18° C (60-64° F).

Food Pairing

Braised and roasted red meats, substantial game dishes, meat-stuffed pasta, and ripe cheese.

Vinyard Notes

Production Area: Canale d'Alba, Piemonte.

Vineyard: All of the fruit is from the estate's Mompissano vineyard.

Elevation: 300-350 meters (985-1,150 feet) a.s.l.

Exposure: South-west exposure.

Soil: Calcareous-clayey with a low percentage of sand.

Cultivation system: Guyot.

Winemaking Notes

Harvest: Hand harvested in the middle of October.

Ageing: 24-months in 30-hl Slavonian oak barrels, blending in stainless steel vats, and a few months in bottles.

Cascina Ca' Rossa is located in Canale, in the heart of the Roero, once known for its fruit growing and which has now become one of the major wine production areas in Piedmont. The winery is synonymous with the untiring, generous Angelo Ferrio, whose contagious good spirits and cheerfulness infect all around him. He has built the estate's award-winning reputation on vineyard plots that are some of the best and most distinctive in the Roero DOCG. The Mompissano vineyard, a south-facing hillside of one and a half hectares of immaculately tended Nebbiolo vines. Mulassa, a Barbera vineyard, on the same hill. Audinaggio, a 60-year-old two-hectare vineyard with sandy soil in the Valmaggioreru, and in the Santo Stefano a three-hectare property planted with Nebbiolo and Arneis Le Coste cru.
