

VINITY
WINE COMPANY

Viticoltori De Conciliis Fiano Cilento Donnaluna

Overview

- Donnaluna takes its name from a riff on "Donna Lee," the bebop standard made famous by Charlie Parker and Miles Davis — because in the Cilento, even the white wines swing. Picked in the cool of early morning from hillside vineyards overlooking the Mediterranean, De Conciliis' organically grown Fiano rests briefly on its skins, then ferments and ages in steel to keep every note bright. Expect white peach, citrus blossom, wild herbs, and a saline mineral encore straight off the sea breeze.

Appellation: Cilento DOC

Type: White, dry

Varietal: 100% Fiano

Winemaking and Vineyard Notes

Production area: Six estate hillside parcels near Prignano Cilento.

Vineyard exposition and altitude: Southwest, South and Southeast.

Vineyard soil type: Clay-calcareous Cilento flysch soils (non-volcanic).

Vine training method: Double Guyot

Time and method of harvest: Manual harvest from 8th - 15th of September.

Vinification: In temperature-controlled stainless steel tank. Six days of maceration, fermentation at 12- 18 degrees Celsius, no malolactic fermentation.

Aging: Four months in stainless steel.

Annual production: 35,000 bottles.

Notes: Natural yeasts, unfiltered.

Tasting Notes

Color: Pale straw yellow.

Bouquet: Aromas of white peach, pear, citrus blossom, chamomile, and wild Mediterranean herbs.

Palate: Fresh and gently creamy, with ripe stone fruit framed by vivid acidity and a distinctly saline, mineral finish.

Alcohol: 13%

Serving Temperature: Chilled 16-18° C (60-64° F)

Food Pairing

Mozzarella di Bufala, seafood pasta, grilled fish, fritto misto, white pizza, medium-aged cheeses.

Viticoltori De Conciliis is a family-run winery founded in 1996 in Prignano Cilento, on Campania's wild southern coast. Perched on hills overlooking the Mediterranean, between the Greek temples of Paestum and the Cilento National Park, the estate champions native grapes — Aglianico, Fiano, and rare Aglianicone — grown on organic-certified, non-volcanic soils of marl and sandstone. Solar-powered since 2007 and guided by minimal intervention, the winery ferments with indigenous yeasts and adds little sulfur. Jazz infuses everything: flagship Naima honors John Coltrane, sparkling Selim salutes Miles Davis. These are soulful, saline wines of place.